

I am writing to comment on the value of K-Love, a national radio station that broadcasts in my area through an FM translator service. This station has served me and my family for several years in a way that can't be replaced by other broadcasts. My family, friends and the larger community have benefitted greatly from music, news and comments that are positive, encouraging and uplifting at a time when most TV and Radio content is not fit for children's ears and is discouraging for most adults. My community would suffer a great loss if we did not have access daily to the K-Love broadcast. Please protect K-Love by preserving the FM translators. I believe that the K-Love service is in the public interest because it provides a message of hope, the love of God, and positive encouragement to millions - and there is NO OTHER broadcast that does this in an effective way in my area. I also want to mention that we previously had a local station that had some of the same goals as K-Love, it was honorable, but it just couldn't provide the quality of speakers, programs and music that a national station can provide. If this FM translator were replaced by a LPFM it would deprive our community of this incredible service that K-Love provides.

Pamela Lancaster